This corner air-conditioned house is located in the quiet town of Vaterstetten on the eastern outskirts of Munich and boasts a clean and straightforward architecture complemented by stylish furnishings.

The interior of the three-story house includes a living room with an open plan kitchen and dining room, 5 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, a separate toilet, a fitness room with a sauna and a mirror wall, technical facilities, and a storage room. The house is surrounded by a landscaped garden with a terrace.

The minimalist interior is shaped by light gray Pandomo screed floors with underfloor heating, a panoramic fireplace, a timeless kitchen with Gaggenau appliances, white interior doors, large-format windows with insulating triple glazing and blinds, and sleek modern bathrooms. Its sustainable energy concept is supported by an air-to-water heat pump and photovoltaic panels located on the roof. The house, built in 2017, has its own remote-controlled entrance gate and a separate double garage.

The Baldham district has retained the character of a garden city with plenty of greenery and a carefully regulated development, especially suitable for families with children. The local infrastructure offers a wide range of services - kindergartens and primary schools, shops, sports and leisure centers, cinemas, and medical clinics. The S-Bahn station "Baldham" provides a convenient connection to the center of Munich. The nearby A99 and A8 highways allow for quick access to the beautiful Chiemgau nature area and to ski and hiking destinations in the Alps.

Total area 243 m², plot 382 m².
